Report of Church Confrence
A report of the quardrennial convention of the Columbia Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists was given Saturday by the pastor to the members of the local Adventist Church.

Pastor W. P. Lawrence reported that Adventists in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, Virginia, West Virginia, and Washington, D. C., gave more than 34 million dollars for the work of the church over the past four years, thereby setting one of the highest records of per capita giving of any religious body. Adventists follow the practice of tithing, setting aside one-tenth of their income for the church.

More than 18 million dollars of this total was given in tithe alone, and the remainedr given for home and overseas missions projects. Adventists maintain more missionaries (over 2,000) and have a larger overseas missions budget (over $25,000,000) than any other Protestant denomination in North America.

In this same period in the 7-state area the denomination built or purchased 50 new churches and schools at a cost of more than $5 million; organized 15 new churches and companies; and baptized nearly 10,267 persons into church membership, a 20% gain over the past quadrennial period.

The 4-year summation at the convention was given by Lewis E. Lenheim, President of the Columbia Union Conference of Adventists.

Local churches were urged to take "immediate steps toward accelerating civil defence preparations and welfare activities. If a national or local emergency should arise, we then, as a church, will be prepared to save our own lives and the lives of others."

Resolutions passed Tuesday by the quadrennial business meeting reaffirmed the church's traditional stand in opposition to the use of public tax funds to support operation of any parochial school and against Sunday closing legislation.

Accompanying Pastor Lawrence to the convention was his wife, Mrs. Delphia Lawrence.

Roadblocks Flunk Test
Boise, Idaho.- Sheriff Myron Gilbert of Ada County decided recently to test the local roadblock system for trapping wanted criminals.
Twenty-seven officers were assigned to roadblocks in the area to watch for Gilbert, who theoretically had held up a grocery store and stolen a get-away car in Boise.
Gilbert eluded the dragnet and made it to Mountain Home, Idaho —43 miles away—without once being challenged.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

The feet of American women are elongating gradually. The ladies don't seem to care. In fact. they would rather to fitted properly, even if it means a size 10, which is not an uncommon size theme days.

With the latest fashion trend in mind, they are first concerned with color and style, but they still aim for comfort.

This is a far cry from the thinking of women fifteen years ago. At that time there were millions of women forcing themselves to wear shoes one or two sizes too short or narrow because "little feet" were considered "cute."

Today, thank goodness, the long, slim look is the mode in high fashion, Because of this there is no reason why the contemporary woman can't be both comfortable and fashionable.

Within the last few years foot measuring devices have been equipped to determine the length a shoe must fit between the heel and the ball of the foot. This is a prime requisite for painless walking.

If you are fitted with the proper last and arch, there is the vamp and other factors that may not conform to the shoe you are trying. In the last analysis you must answer the telling question: "How does it feel?"

IN FASHION NOW

Millions of women are coloring their hair — and it is safe to say that many more would like to but are held back by old-fashioned objections.

The new techniques, new preparations and wonderful, natural-looking blended colors make it difficult to tell whether your hair has been tinted or not.

Basically, there are three different types of hair coloring. The first is a permanent hair coloring. This places coloring inside the hair shaft itself. It will not wash out or color your combs and brushes. You should be very sure of your color choice because this type must grow out and be removed by cutting.

Time was when the permanent hair colors were so hard on the hair that after a few months most hair took on an unattractive straw-like quality. This is no longer the case.

A second type of hair colorings are the temporary hair colorings. These are usually labeled rinses. The color clings to the outside of the hair and is washed out with the next shampoo.

Then we have the bleaches, which are not colors, but are used to remove the color that is already there. This change is permanent. All hair lighteners are simply watered-down bleaches.

A woman's complexion is the key to the best choice of hair color for her. If she has a pink-and-white complexion, almost any shade will be becoming.

As a rule very fair skin calls for lighter, brighter shades. A ruddy complexion is enhanced by, or toned down by with reddish or chestnut highlights. The olive skinned woman would do well to avoid these light shades and keep to the auburns, warm browns, or black shades.

Avoid a mat color. Natural hair coloring always has some variation in tone, so try to achieve this on hair coloring.

About The Home

By Frances Dell

The new wash 'n wear garments have made the American homemaker's job so much easier. There is only one catch — clothes must be laundered properly.

The most common complaint is staining, discolouration and odor retention. The cause of these ills is washing film, a sticky curd-like scum that forms whenever hard minerals in the water or dirt clash with soap or detergent.

Most of the synthetic or resin-finished fibers require a very short washing time. There is a tendency to use too much soap or detergent. These garments must be rinsed in low temperature water to prevent wrinkling. It is much too easy for the end product to be a garment that is unwrinkled but at the same time one containing excess soap and washing film.

The washing film causes the greatest concern. You have experienced how hard the washing film can be to remove from the sides of a tub. This dirt will hold fast in your garment and cause it to look dingy.

What is even worse, embedded washing film harbors germs and odors.

There is a product on the market that can remedy this situation. It is a water conditioner to be used along with soap, and for stubborn cases—again i nthe rinse water.

Some discoloration to synthetic fabrics can be caused by body oil. Here you will want to use a product developed especially for synthetic fibers. It is a mild bleach and is very effective.

Resolutions of Respect

Whereas on the 11th. day of March, 1939, our Heavenly Father, in His Infinite wisdom, called to her Eternal home our beloved member and friend, Mrs. Sara Taylor Caldwell; and

Whereas in her early years, she had dedicated her life to God, and was one of the Charter members of Memorial Church, Appomattox, Va., where she had labored faithfully and efficiently in all phases of the work, having served for a long number of years as President of the Woman's Missionary Society, as Church Organist, and teacher in the Youth Division of the Church School, and was one of the teachers for the Ladies Bible Class up to the time of her last illness; and

Whereas by her beautiful, unselfish character, her radiant personality and unfiring energy, she had led others into definite places of service in the Church and its organizations, and had won the love and esteem of all with whom she came in contact, touching their lives with the light that burned in her own heart; and

Whereas her death has left a vacancy in our Church and community which will be keenly felt by scores of friends; therefore Be it Resolved:

FIRST — That we, the members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Memorial Church, Appomattox, Va., bow in meek and humble submission to the Divine will of Almighty God, and that we memorialize her by increasing our efforts in promoting the Kingdom, at home and around the world, and accept her departure as a stirring challenge to dedicate ourselves anew to the task, which now must be ours.

SECOND — That we extend to her bereaved family our deepest sympathy, and pray that the blessings from the God, whom she served, may be with them in their hour of sorrow and throughout their lives.

THIRD — That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Family, a copy published in the Times-Virginian, and a copy spread upon the minutes of this Society.
